Leichhardt town clerk dumped

By CATHARINE LUMBY

The Mayor of Leichhardt, Mr Nick Origlass, has suspended the town clerk, Mr Ronald Eggins, with a view to terminating his services.

Speaking before a packed gallery, Alderman Origlass cited reasons for the dismissal which included the failure of the town clerk to carry out council resolutions, to carry out his duties in a competent manner and to work co-operatively with council members and staff.

"His attitude is completely inconsistent with the duty of loyalty and responsibility owed by a town clerk to his council, and his attitude is intractable," Alderman Origlass said at the Tuesday night meeting.

At an emergency committee meeting held prior to council, members had the opportunity to consider the grounds for dismissal in detail.

Alderman Bill Brady was unsuccessful in moving an amendment that no action be taken until council had the benefit of a report on the town clerk, scheduled to be prepared by the Department of Local Government on July 11.

A motion confirming the mayor's action was carried narrowly.

Speaking after the meeting, Alderman Brady voiced his dissatisfaction with the proceedings. "My main objection is that this whole thing was steamrollered through," he said. "If you ask me, they want to sack the wrong bloke. They should have sacked the mayor."

Mr Eggins, Leichhardt's town clerk for nearly six years, declined to comment.

THE EASTERN HERALD, Thursday, June 30, 1988

HOW LITTLE THINGS CHANGE!

The following item is an extract from Glebe Society Bulletin No. 3 of 1971. It relates to the rejection by Leichhardt Council of a development application for a block of flats at 59-61 Ferry Road.

... Comic relief was provided by Dr Foley of Glebe and Alderman Barry of Annandale. In a hellfire and damnation type of speech, Dr Foley castigated the Glebe Society and its President as a gang of larrikins and dastardly plant trampers. He also stated (quite wrongly) that the Society had already decided to put up opposition candidates at the next Municipal Elections and - also wrongly - that the Leichhardt Council had already rejected the Ferry Road application. It did so about three-quarters of an hour later. Dr Foley appears to have an increasing difficulty in remembering what is decided in Caucus and what in Council. Alderman Brady also provided some hilarious moments. Waving a letter about excitedly, he claimed to have proof that the Glebe Society had undertaken to cover the expense of every challenge in the courts to development proposals rejected by the Council. Alderman Brady appears to have some difficulty with the comprehension of written English Altogether it was a good show. Why, one wonders, does one pay to go to revues like The Legend of King O'Malley, when Leichhardt Council can put on a show like that for free.

Ed's notes:

1. Foley Park was named after this Dr Foley.
2. We still need Council Watchers.

Concern over Rozelle Bay land use

An Annandale residents' group met the Minister for the Environment, Mr Tim Moore, last week to make representations about land surrounding Rozelle Bay.

Members of the Save Rozelle Bay Campaign asked for land on the Annandale side of Johnston's Creek, presently used for timber storage, to be made available for open space in Annandale.

The group also wants to prevent dredging and reclamation of any part of the Bay.

According to a spokesman for the group, Mr Tom Dan, an environmental impact study revealed highly toxic material in the surface sediment below the water.

"Rozelle Bay has a high infill rate," he said. "In the early days there were a number of factories discharging directly into the bay and as a result there is a great deal of highly toxic material buried below the surface which would be brought up to the surface if the bay is dredged."

Mr Dan claimed that scientific studies previously carried out by the Department of Public Works were too superficial to reveal the true levels of toxicity.

The group also voiced its concerns about the crescent-shaped piece of land surrounding the bay.

"We are concerned that some of the land leaching back into the bay is itself causing toxicity. We want reassurance that the land is safe," said Mr Dan.

Mr Moore advised that no decisions on the future of the land around the bay would be made until scientific studies commissioned by the former Labor government came to hand.

The group will meet with Mr Moore again in September.

UNIVERSITY PROTECTED AGAINST ITSELF

The houses in Arundel and Catherine Streets that were threatened by the University of Sydney's plan to create a residential college have received Section 130 Orders which prevent demolition. The Committee hopes the expressions of community concern about the proposal will encourage the University to consider less destructive options.

FIRST SHARED PEDESTRIAN/TRAFFIC ZONE

At the traffic meeting at Glebe Town Hall on 26th May, the Chair of Council's Traffic Committee, Ald. Betty Leone, displayed a plan for a section of Sheehy Street, Glebe, which, as well as additional grassed areas, planting and parking, incorporates an area that can be shared by pedestrians and vehicles. Narrowing and speed bumps force vehicles to slow down to 10 Kph. The area is marked by signs and differently coloured asphalt. This method, the first of its kind in the area, can be used with great effect in cul de sacs and lanes, where through traffic is not a problem. Our Traffic Sub-Committee awaits resident reaction with interest.

OLD PUBLICAN'S RESIDENCE DEMOLISHED

The residence adjacent to the Excelsior Hotel, Bridge Road, which was about forty years older than the Hotel itself, has been demolished to make way for a beer garden. The Society's Planning Sub-committee rashly assumed that the attractive front section would be preserved, as a beer garden fronting Bridge Road did not seem very appealing. The Society is writing to express its concern that the building was not adequately evaluated, as required by LEP 20.

The original hotel was the subject of a Royal Commission in 1902, as a result of the efforts of Sergeant Hogg of the NSW Police to prevent illicit trading. Sergeant Hogg was a resident of Glebe and ended his days in Northcote Street.

MONDAY GROUP

The Monday Group's next meeting will be on 18th July at 12 noon, at the home of Sally Nelson, 1 Allen Street. Bring lunch for one person, as usual.

HAPPY HOURS

The next Happy Hour is at the home of our President, Peter Strickland, 207 Bridge Road, on Sunday 10th July at 11 am. The August Happy Hour will be on Sunday 21st at Gwen and Jeanette Knox's home, 26 Victoria Road, also at 11 am.

Wine, soft drinks and 'nibblies' will be provided and there will be a charge of $1 to cover expenses. Everyone is welcome.

DINING OUT IN GLEBE

Our next two restaurants are:

Daniel's Garden Restaurant - 79 Glebe Point Road - Tuesday 2nd August at 6.30.

Aniello's Trattoria - 284 Bridge Road (on the corner of Junction Street) - on Tuesday 6th September at 6.30 pm.

Please ring Col or Jean MacKenzie (660 0492) if you are coming to either of these dinners. New members are especially welcome.

HOUSE INSPECTION NOW SUNDAY 30th OCTOBER

The date of the House Inspection has been changed to tie in with the Open Day which had already been planned by Lyndhurst, one of the houses on our proposed list.

Jeff Ibbotson would still welcome help with the organisation of this most important event.

PLAQUE BACK IN BLACKWATTLE BAY PARK

The plaque commemorating the opening of the Park, which was stolen about a year ago, has been replaced. That's the good news. The bad news is that there is still no sign of a toilet block, an essential amenity if we are to use this Park and its excellent barbecue facilities in comfort.

GLEBE TOWN HALL DAMAGED BY FIRE

On Saturday 25th June at 1.30 am, Glebe Town Hall was severely damaged by fire. Although there are few external signs of the fire, the interior of the upper part, including the elaborate ceiling in the Upper Hall and much of the fine carving, has been damaged or destroyed. We understand that the cost of restoration will be $750,000.
